Executive Minutes

Tuesday, August 25th 1812.

A pardon was this day granted to Benjamin L. Curry who was convicted of Larceny, and sentenced by the Court of General Quarter Sessions of the peace of the County of York in April 1812 to pay a fine to the use of the Commonwealth equal in value to the goods stolen, and to undergo imprisonment at hard labour as by the transcript of the Record filed in the Secretarys Office will more fully appear.

The resignation of Washington Porter of the Office of the peace in and for the County of Mercer—was received and this day accepted by the Governor.

Letters were this day written by the Secretary of the Commonwealth by the order of the Governor, to Callender Irwine Superintendant of Military Stores and to William Linnard of Philadelphia and Lieutenant Johnston of Pittsburgh Assistants to the Quarter Master General of the United States informing them that under the requisition of the President of the United States the Governor has issued his general order for Assembly at Meadville in the County of Crawford in this Commonwealth on the twenty fifth day of September next two thousand Militia and requesting that immediate measures may be pursued for supplying the troops with equipments and provisions on their way to and at the rendezvous.

The General Orders issued by the Governor this day—were in the following words to wit Vizt.—

General Orders.

Harrisburg 25th of August 1812.

The President of the United States having, through the Secretary at War and General Dearborn, under date respectively of the 13th instant, required a detachment of 2000 Militia, to be marched with the least possible delay from the Northwestern parts of Pennsylvania to Buffalo, in the State of New York; duty and feeling direct a prompt compliance with a requisition giving scope for action to the patriotism evinced by that portion of our Citizen soldiers who have volunteered their services under General Orders of the 12th May last, in substitution of the drafted required of the State.—To obey this call in defence of rights sacred to freemen—to avenge the injuries of the nation, and defend the cause of suffering humanity—the Volunteers of Pennsylvania will not hesitate a moment to meet the avowed enemy of those rights, not only within the bounds of the United States; but will, without those limits, with ardor seek, and with the determination characteristic of freemen, punish the unprovoked invaders of our rights and property.

The Governor with pleasure embraces the present occasion to perpetuate the honorable fame acquired by those gallant sons of Pennsylvania who volunteered their services by naming the Commandants of those patriotic corps and companies, and the Division and Brigade to which they severally belong:

For obvious reasons the Adjutant General has orders to designate for the service such of the volunteers as can with the least possible delay, be marched to the scene of action: and is charged with the organization of the detachment of 2000 men, conformably to the following plan:—The detachment to constitute a Brigade to consist of four Regiments, and each Regiment to consist of two Battalions, to be arranged by the Adjutant General at the place of rendezvous.

The general rendezvous will be at Meadville, to which place the volunteers composing the detachment will march with the requisite expedition, so that they be there on the 25th day of September next. By the 26th section of the general militia law, among other services by them to be performed, it is made the duty of the Brigade Inspectors to march each with his proper detachment to the place of rendezvous. These officers are severally required and directed to provide subsistence and other necessary accommodations for the troops on their march, and exhibit detailed accounts for settlement and payment to the Accountant officers of the Commonwealth.

Apprised of the generally prevailing desire that those appointed to Command may be the choice of the commanded. the Governor, agreeably to the 10th section of a supplement to the Militia law passed 26th March, 1808, and the 27th section of the general militia law, authorises and directs the officers and privates of the detachment, on the day succeeding the 25th day of September next or those who shall have arrived, to elect, agreeably to the rules prescribed by the militia law, one Brigadier General; each regiment to elect a Colonel Commandant; each Battalion one Major. The Brigadier General to appoint his own Brigade Major; The field officers of each Regiment shall appoint their respective regimental staffs. To expedite the expedition, in discharge of his duty the Adjutant General will attend and deliver to the officers elect their commissions.

Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Aid de Camp

Sir,

You will immediately, on the receipt of the General Orders, communicate them to the Captains or Commanding officers of the Volunteer Companies within the bonds of your Brigade, Vizt.

This blank was filled with the names of the Commanding officers of the Companies in the respective Brigades—and give every aid in your power to have the companies marched as expeditously as possible to the place of rendezvous (Meadville) mentioned in General Orders. The troops will be supplied with rations, tents and other camp equipage, by the United States. Should there be any deficiency of arms in any of the Volunteer Companies, you will supply them out of any that may be in the bounds of your Brigade. If there cannot be a sufficient number found in that way, they will be furnished at the place of rendezvous. Every man will take care to supply himself with a blanket and knapsack. It is confidently expected that the patriotism of the volunteers is too sincere and ardent to permit them to make any objections to crossing the boundary line of the U. States; otherwise they will render no service to their Country.

By order of the Governor.
To Esqre Brigade Inspector.
N. B. Boileau, Secty.

In compliance with a requisition from the President of the United States the Governor this day issued his General Orders for calling into the service of the United States a detachment of two thousand Men of this States Militia—Vizt.

General Orders

Harrisburg Septr. 5th 1812.

The recent disastrous events on the North-western frontiers of the United States, presenting imminent danger, impels the Executive of Pennsylvania, under requisition of the Constituted Authorities of the United States, to order out for the service of the Union a detachment of 2000 Men to be composed of the drafted Militia and of flank companies and horse of the 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th divisions; each division to furnish a number, which, added to the volunteers already in service under general orders of the 25th ult. Will be equal to its quota, as designated by the Adjutant General, under General Orders of the 12th May last.

No return of drafts having been received by the Executive from the 2nd Brigade of the 13th division, the Brigade Inspector thereof is directed to give immediate notice to three flank companies and three Companies of horse, attached to his Brigade, to march, and he is directed to march them to the place of Rendezvous hereinafter mentioned.

The Brigade Inspector of the 1st brigade of the 13th division is commanded to march the drafts from his brigade to the place of rendezvous.

The Brigade Inspectors of the other divisions being now on their march, with their respective detachments, under General Orders of the 25th ult. the Brigadier Generals of the other divisions will appoint the Senior officer of each Regimental draft to give notice to the drafts, officers and privates, within the bounds of their respective Regiments to meet at some convenient place within the Brigade, and after having mustered the respective detachments the said Brigade Inspectors as aforesaid, and the said Senior officers, shall march their respective detachments to Pittsburg, with the requisite despatch, so that they arrive at the place of rendezvous on the second day of October next. On the next day thereafter, or as soon as a majority of the detachment shall have arrived, the officers and privates shall elect one Brigadier General to command the detachment, which is to constitute a brigade, and is to consist of, and be formed into four Regiments, and each regiment to consist of two battalions.—Each regiment to elect one Colonel commandant, and each Battalion one Major.

Volunteers will be accepted in substitution of any draft or drafts.

Subsistence and accommodations for the troops on their march to the place of rendezvous, it is presumed, will be furnished by the United States' Contractors—If no provision shall have been made by those contractors, the men will either supply themselves, or the several Commandants on the march to the rendezvous will do it, and render their accounts, as directed by the General Orders of the 25th ult.

The Brigadiers General, for ascertaining their respective drafts, are referred to a note accompanying this, containing so much as is necessary of the Adjutant Generals detail, founded on returns to him from the respective Brigade Inspectors.

The Adjutant General will attend at the place of rendezvous and take the Command of the detachment, until the officers are chosen.

To them respectively, that officer will deliver commissions; and will pay any expenses incident to the service, that may not be provided for by the United States. At the place of rendezvous the detachment will be furnished with tents and other field equipage.

Should there be any deficiency of Arms, the said Brigade Inspectors and Brigadiers General will supply the respective detachments with any to be found within the bounds of their respective brigades. If there cannot be found a number sufficient, they will be furnished at the place of rendezvous. Every man will supply himself with a blanket and knapsack.

The Brigadier General having assumed the command, will, with the least possible delay, march his detachment to, and join an army now assembled in the State of Ohio for defence of the Western frontiers, unless otherwise ordered by the Commander in Chief of the United States army.

The Governor embraces the present opportunity of recording the names of commanding officers of companies who have patriotically tendered their services, not included in General Orders of the 25th ult.

Henry Shippen,—Captain company of Yagers 1st brigade 4 Division
William Adams,....do.....Troop of Horse....2d Brigade....6th..do.

Robert McGuigan...do. Light Infantry.....2d....do.....9th..do.

And also to express his high sense of the valor of those patriotic citizens who voluntarily flocked to the standard of their country, on the north-western frontiers of the State, to arrest the progress of an invading foe.

The Governor this day took into consideration the Bill that has passed the two Houses of the Legislature entitled "An Act to incorporate the town of Orwigsburg in the County of Schuylkill into a Borough"—presented to him on the eighteenth instant and not approving thereof directed the Secretary of the Commonwealth to return the same to the House of Representatives in which it originated, with the following objections to its being passed into a Law.

To the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Fellow Citizens,

The bill entitled An Act to incorporate the town of Orwigsburg, in the County of Schuylkill, into a borough, was presented to me on the 18th instant. After serious deliberation, I have now directed the Secretary to return the bill to the House of Representatives in which it originated, with the following objections against its being enacted into a law:

1st Because the 6th section authorises the burgess, judicially, to recover fines and forfeitures for the benefit of the Corporation, incurred under borough ordinances enacted in a legislative capacity, by himself, his assistants, or common council. Thus vesting one and the same officer with powers legislative and Judicial, a principle inconsistent, with both the letter and spirit of our frame of Government.

2nd Because, inasmuch as no tribunal possessing judicial powers, can exist in Pennsylvania without the Executive commission for that purpose to the officer, it becomes matter of great doubt, whether it is competent to vest in the incumbent of an office created by themselves, powers judicially to act.

3rd Because, though it is not competent for one judicial tribunal, to appoint the incumbents of another tribunal possessing independently, equal or even minor powers, yet does this bill authorise the court of Quarter Sessions of Schuylkill County, in case of neglect by the inhabitants to elect their Borough Officers, forthwith to appoint the burgesses, who, in conjunction with the Common Council (also in that case to be appointed) have not only the right to legislate, but also judicially to decide on cases and facts arising out of borough ordinances, made by themselves: powers transcending for those possessed by the appointing tribunal, or any other tribunal known to the Constitution.

Independently of the above objections, there is another, on the ground of expediency because, 4th From the mandates of the tribunal created by the bill, however oppressive they may be, there is no appeal. There is no mode for redress whatsoever prescribed in the bill.

The responsibility and delicacy, always connected with the rejection by the Executive, of the solemn act of the representatives of the people, in the present case much increased, from the consideration that provisions similar to some of those that form the ground for objection to the passage of this bill, may heretofore inadvertently have been sanctioned by Executive approbation.

Friday, March 19th, 1813.

The Governor having read and considered the Bill entitled "An Act to establish a general system of Banking lately presented to him for his signature; and not approving thereof, this day directed the Secretary of the Commonwealth to return the same to the House of Representatives in which it originated, and the same was accordingly returned accompanied by the Governors objections thereto—as follow—Vizt.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Nothing less than the most perfect conviction of my understanding and the strongest urgings of duty, could induce me to return, for reconsideration, a bill presented to me by the Legislature of Pennsylvania; with whom it has been my happiness to act in unison, and with whom even to differ in opinion, gives me pain. I have, with an anxiety proportioned to its importance, and with the deference justly due to the constituted authorities which have passed it, read and carefully examined the provisions, tendencies and probable consequences of the bill, entitled "An act to establish a general system of banking," and cannot approve of it; and have accordingly directed the Secretary of the Commonwealth to return it to the House of Representatives, where it originated, with the following objections:

First. Because corporations are privileged orders, vested with certain rights and immunities, not enjoyed, nor, without penalties, to be exercised by the great body of the people. And whenever an association of individuals are legally vested with such peculiar powers and privileges, it ought to be either called for by the general voice of the people, or be so manifestly for the promotion of the public weal, and beyond the accomplishment of individual enterprise and ability, as to satisfy the judgment, and thus secure the vote of an indisputable majority of the whole Legislative Assembly. This objection is founded on that equality of rights, which is the vital principle that pervades our constitution, gives it all its excellence and dispenses the Blessings which—pre-eminently distinguish the Citizens of the United States.

Second. Because every objection which can be urged against corporations generally gathers weight and strength when directed against monied institutions; the undue influence of which has often been the subject of well founded complaint.

To wrestle with and put down this influence, new associations have been formed, applications for new charters for similar establishments have multiplied; and in proportion as they have been granted, has been the multiplication of new applications. These facts apply with peculiar force to the City of Philadelphia, where those institutions had their origin, in this Country; but should the system be enlarged, as contemplated by the bill under consideration, the evil will over-spread the whole state, and it is much to be feared, will taint the purity of elections, and eventually prostrate the rights of the people.

Third. Because it is questionable whether too much has not already been done in granting to corporations the privilege to coin money—a money which, not answering the purpose of foreign commerce drains the country of its precious metals, and in their lieu substitutes a currency which is without any value, except what is stamped by public confidence. The granting such an inherent right of sovereignty to individuals, avowedly associated to promote their pecuniary interests, is putting it in their power to increase the circulating paper medium of the country to such an extent as will result in depreciation of, or a total want of confidence in bank paper; events too deplorable not to be deprecated by every good citizen.

Fourth. Because the most diligent inquiries, and information from the best sources, have satisfied me that the present banking Capital of Pennsylvania is equal to the discounting all the good paper, which for many months has been offered, or will be offered during the continuance of the war in which we are engaged; and therefore the establishment of twenty-five new-banks, dispersed all over the State, with a capital of 9,525,000 dollars, would, by the readiness to give credit, invite to visionary speculations; divert men from useful pursuits; damp the ardor of industrious enterprize, and consequently demoralize the community.

Fifth. Because, as banks are multiplied, so will be increased the difficulty of distinguishing real from counterfeit bank notes, thus facilitating the means of imposition upon the ignorant and unwary, and, by the hope of impunity, tempting more to join in committing the crimes, already too prevalent, of counterfeiting and passing counterfeit notes. At present the variety of designs and signatures to our bank notes are not so diversified, but what an attentive observer may, with tolerable certainty, discriminate between a genuine and counterfeit note; but if twenty-five new institutions be privileged to issue paper money, each one electing its own device, mode of execution, kind of paper on which it shall be printed, and each having its own officers to sign and countersign them, how difficult, how almost impossible will it be, for our citizens to know when a piece of paper purporting to be worth five, ten or one hundred dollars, be in fact worth any of those sums, or not worth one cent.

Sixth. Because, although petitions have been presented, asking the incorporation of banks in some counties of the state, yet upon inquiry I have not learned that any application for the establishment of a system, so novel and extensive, has been made to the Legislature; nor has this want of expression of the public wishes in favor of such a system been made unequivocal by the votes of the Legislature. The bill was carried, as appears from the journals, by a majority of one in each House: in either branch of the Legislature had this bill a majority of the whole number of its members.

Seventh. Because the history of all nations that have authorized an extensive paper Currency, and the experience of our own Country, have furnished melancholy examples of the disastrous consequences which flow from such a system.

Eighth. Because a time of War is an unpropitious era to try experiments, particularly when those experiments may seriously affect the finances of the Commonwealth, which now draws a revenue, more than equal to all its current expenses, from the bank stock which it owns in the banks already incorporated.

Ninth. Because, under all the circumstances, no material injury can result from an arrestation of the bill, until the next session of the Legislature; whereas, if it were now to pass into a law, it might produce evils not in the power of a subsequent Legislature to correct: because an Act incorporating a company for the purposes of banking partakes of the nature of a contract, against the imparing of which there is a constitutional prohibition; for a provision wisely introduced into several laws lately passed, vesting associated individuals with corporate powers and exclusive privileges, authorising a subsequent Legislature to repeal and annul such law, if the privileges thereby granted should at any time prove injurious to the community, happens, very unfortunately, not to have been introduced into this novel and important bill. At all events, if I am mistaken, misinformed, or in error, the representatives of the people, upon a review of the bill, can if they think proper give it effect, independently of executive sanction, by such a majority as would unequivocally express the public opinion, and designate it to the law of the land.

Simon Snyder.

General Orders

Harrisburg, May 8th, 1813.

Preparatory measures having been adopted by the General Government, to which, it of right belongs for defending the City of Philadelphia and the shores of the Delaware, against any hostile attempts that may be made by the enemy.

A Proclamation

All pious Citizens must accord in sentiment with two respectable Synods of Christian Clergy who have addressed me on the subject, that while it would ill become the people of this Commonwealth to be insensible of the many distinguished blessings enjoyed by them under a beneficient providence beyond the nations of the earth, yet such are the ominous and gloomy signs of the time, prevalence of iniquity, the languishing state of vital religion, and the abuse of signal privileges: such are the numerous evidences of divine displeasure, and the protentous indications of increasing calamities througout the globe, that they loudly call the children of Men to humble themselves under the mighty hand of God. Therefore in furtherance of the measures contemplated by the said two synods I recommend to our Christian brethren of all denominations within this Commonwealth to set apart the first Thursday of August next for humiliating and prayer. And for supplicating the interposition of a benevolent deity with the rules of nations, that our national and unalienable rights may be protected and secured—that the present just and unavoidable War, may be speedily terminated by an equitable peace, and those rights transmitted unimpaired to our latest posterity, and that generally the All bountiful Creator may so direct the hearts of men, that peace and good will may obtain, and be lastingly established among the whole human family.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at Harrisburg this sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, and of the Commonwealth the thirty eighth.

General Orders.

Harrisburg 29th Oct. 1813.

Whilst it affords the Commander in Chief high gratification to say to those of the Militia of Pennsylvania who performed the service required in the field against a Malignant foe deserve well of their country—A respect for the military reputation of the Militia commands, on the other hand a strict enforcement of the laws making penal a refusal to march—or punishing desertion—Under these impressions I do order that you immediately direct the several Brigade Inspectors from whose brigades as well volunteers as drafted militia were ordered for the service of the United States agreeably to the several requisitions from those who administer that Government under the several General Orders by the Commander in Chief dated respectively of May 12th, 1812. August 25th, 1812. September 5th, 1812, and March 20th, 1813, and of April 5th, 1813, that they severally and respectively institute prosecutions against as well those of the militia who were delinquent in not marching as against those who after having marched deserted the service. And that the respective presiding officers of Courts-Martial certify—and report without delay the fines assessed and on whom to the marshall of the district of Pennsylvania.—A reference by you to the laws of the U. S. prescribing the duty to be performed by those officers and by Courts Martial may very much facilitate enquiry and result in our early termination of this important service.

N. B. Boileau, Aid-de-camp.

Simon Snyder.

William Duncan Adjt Genl of the Militia of Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, October 30th, 1813.

Sir, I send you enclosed a General order from the Governor which you will have executed as promptly as practicable.—They have been delayed in consequence of a difficulty arising as to the mode of procedure.—Whether the penalties incurred by delinquents should be collected under the State or U. States.—The Attorney Genl is of opinion they must be collected under of the latter, in which the Governor concurs.—I send you a list of the names of the Brigade Inspectors, from whose Brigades Volunteers and drafts were ordered into service.—It will perhaps be well for you, to direct their attention to the 5th and 6th sections of the act of Congress, passed 28th February 1795 as the rule of their proceedings. In adverting to subsequent Acts of Congress on the subject of the Militia you find that no alteration has been made in the provisions contained in the said sections.—The tour of service however has been changed from three to six months—A Circumstance also which the officers holding the Court Martials should be apprized of.—I have written to the son of the late General Reed to forward to this office all the papers in his possession belonging to the Adjutant Generals office—I have not yet received them.

The Governor has returned to the seat of Government and will remain here for some months.—I will inform you when I receive the papers from Mr Reed.

Very respectfully, Your obdt Servt

N. B. Boileau Secy

Genl Wm Duncan

P. S. By examining the several General Orders issued by the Governor which I presume you have, you will perceive from what Brigades the drafts or Volunteers were ordered into service—It will perhaps be advisable for you to remind the Brigade Inspectors that those who were delinquent among those called into the service of the U. States are to be tried by Court Martial agreeably to the laws of the U. States—

And that those called into the service of this state only, are to be proceeded against under the state laws.

I conceive that those volunteers who so shamefully deserted and threw down their arms at Black rock ought in a particular manner to be brought before Court Martial.

The Marshall of the District of Pennsylvania was this day informed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth that the Governor has issued orders to the Several Brigade Inspectors from whose Brigades Volunteers and drafts have been ordered into the service of the United States to have courts martial held on those who have been delinquents under the act of congress of the twenty eighth of February 1795 and to make report of their proceedings to the said Marshall.

affairs of the Commonwealth was presented to both Houses by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

FELLOW CITIZENS,

Never has the General Assembly of Pennsylvania met at a period when duties more important were to be discharged, or rights more sacred to be defended. Since the last session of the Legislature, events the most interesting have followed one another in rapid succession. Our sister states, on the Lakes and on the Atlantic have been invaded, and the capital of the Union menaced by hostile fleets and armies. I am happy and grateful to say, that under Divine Providence, the savage invaders have been repelled; a territory has been restored to the Union; our western fellow-citizens now sleep in safety, and pursue without fear their lawful occupations.

The hands, dyed in innocent blood, which were uplifted to slay and Scalp our fellow-citizens, are now raised to supplicate their mercy. The mighty fleets, laden with men and engines of destruction, which hovered on our coasts, infested our bays and rivers, and threatened to lay our cities in ashes, have found it expedient to depart without having accomplished any other object than that of inflaming the public resentment and exciting the profoundest detestation, by their brutal inhumanity. Ill do they estimate the American people who presume that the wrongs done them can be consumed in the flames of defenceless villages, their resentments assuaged by the tears of their violated country women, or their courage quenched by the blood of faithlessly massacred prisoners.—The heart sickens, but the arm is invigorated at the recollection of the scenes of barbarism which have been exhibited on our Lake frontier and our Atlantic borders. The implacable hatred of the enemy and his desire to do evil, have been sufficiently manifested, but his power has been found more impotent than had been imagined; nor have the privations of the nation been at all proportioned to what was expected; much less have we suffered the manifold calamities which the fears of the timid or the treachery of the factions had portrayed. But if all that had been predicted had been inflicted, I trust and believe the fortitude and valor of Americans would have borne them without a murmer, and that the same virtues would conduct them to victory and safety. When war was declared, the people of the United States knew that they must breast its dangers and overcome its difficulties, and they prepared accordingly; they unsheathed the sword not to do wrong, but to compel right; and they know the value of the rights for which they contend too well ever to abandon them.

For thirty years was the attention of our government and of our people solely directed to cultivate the arts of peace, as congenial with the principles of the former as they are with the disposition of the latter. Scarcely was the theory of military tactics studied, and the happy situation of our country precluded equally the necessity of practice. To these circumstances, and the having to contend with a foe inured to war, blood and desolation, it is owing that we met with partial reverses. Disasters and defeats are incident to all wars; they were anticipated. We could not expect to be exempt from the lot of other nations; but, as we have more at stake than any other people upon earth, so unshakingly and undismayed ought we to meet misfortunes, as to convince the enemy that our spirit is as unconquerable as our cause is just. And as the prowess of our military officers is rapidly developing, and the discipline of our force constantly improving, there is rational ground for confidence that, with the blessings of Heaven, our efforts will result in a complete triumph over our enemies. As a prelude, we refer with pride to the glorious victory on Lake Erie, which, if ever equalled, was in naval warfare, never excelled—a victory, not less brilliant in its achievement than important in its effects; nor less honorable to the nation, than to the highly distinguished Perry who commanded, and the brave officers and men who composed that heroic force. Already is the brow of the young warrior Croghan encircled with laurels, and the blessings of thousands of women and children rescued from the scalping knife of the ruthless savage of the wilderness, and from the still more savage Proctor, rest on Harrison and his gallant army. Chauncey though not equally successful with the renowned hero of Lake Erie, has sought and deserves to be so. On that element, claimed by Britain as her exclusive domain, the American flag waved triumphant in every equal conflict. The infant navy of the United States has given a deep, can we not with truth say a mortal wound, to the fell monster of the deep. With these truths before us, can it be deemed presumptuous to hazard the prediction, that the so lately (by the tyrant of the ocean) despised American navy, is destined completely to humble his pride, control his power, and coerce him to respect justice and the rights of independent nations. Where it not the province of another, upon which I should regret to intrude, it would be delightful further to dwell upon this proud and resplendent page of our history.

The state of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in every point of view gratifying; our treasury is more full than at any former period, and the receipts of the last year greater than that of any former. In the treasury remains, as you will perceive by an exhibit to be made of our financial concerns by the accountant department, an unexpended balance of more than three hundred and forty-six thousand dollars. The produce of the earth has been abundant. All our old manufactures are thriving, and many new ones are introduced and in a prosperous way. This however we may deprecate and deplore the calamities of a protracted war, will console us with a prospect of permanent and extensive manufacturing establishments, equal to our wants and such as will insure the real and practical independence of our country. The erection of bridges, the completion of roads and the clearing of Lands, shew the general welfare; and the recent elections not only throughout this state, but all our sister states, demonstrate the increase of public confidence in the general government, and the determination also of the people to support the war with all their energies until an honorable peace can be obtained.

That no effort has been left untried to obtain this desirable object, will, I am confident, be satisfactorily shewn by the Chief Magistrate of the Union in his communication to Congress.

In obedience to requisitions from the President of the United States, a third and a fourth detachment of Pennsylvania Militia of 1000 men each, were ordered into the service of the Union. The fourth detachment was to protect the shores of the Delaware, and the third to protect the vessels of war then building and equipping in the harbor of Erie, in this state.

The happy result of this service is amply manifested in the glorious victory to which I have alluded and the consequences that have flowed from it.

The organizing and officering these detachments agreeably to the directions of the Secretary at War, was attended with considerable difficulty, arising out of the inefficiency of our militia law, and the discordance between our military system and that of the U. States. The many defects of our system render a complete and thorough revision not only desirable and expedient, but indispensible. A conformity with the organization and regulations of the army of the U. States, would facilitate the detaching for service any requisition which may hereafter be made, and prevent many of those contests between corps and officers for rank and precedence, which have too frequently tended to injure the reputation of our citizen soldiers, and the public service. The strong presumption that early in the spring and during the summer the enemy will invade for the purpose of plunder and devastation. the shores of the Delaware is, independent of all other considerations. motive sufficient to induce the adoption of all the precautionary measures which prudence and foresight can suggest. The purchase of arms and ammunition and the encouragement of efficient volunteer corps, would certainly tend to inspire confidence as well as multiply the means of resistance.

Circumstanced as we are, one of our most imperious duties is to give the State an energetic militia law; our constituents expect it, and our County demands it.

Shall we disappoint expectation so just, demands so reasonable.

In the message I had the honor to transmit to the Legislature under date of the seventh of December 1809, I submitted my opinion on this subject, so fully that I cannot deem it necessary now to occupy your time for further details.

Among the measures adopted by the general government for supporting the just and necessary war in which the nation is engaged is a direct tax upon property. Possessing as our state does, the means, I cannot doubt the disposition of her Legislature to give effect to her repeated professions, by appropriating a portion of her treasure for the commutation and prompt payment of the states quota of that tax. Interest and patriotism unite so obviously in recommending this measure. that the Executive would not have recurred to it, were it not for the necessity there is, that the subject should be legislated upon without delay. The seventh section of the act imposing that tax, provides that each state which determines to pay its quota, and thus avail itself of the 15 per cent. deduction, must give information thereof to the treasury department of the United States, on or before the 10th day of January next.

At no period of our history has the immense importance of internal navigation been so strikingly exemplified as since the commencement of hostilities. The transportation of produce and the intercourse between citizens of different states, which knit more strongly the bonds of social and political union, are greatly retarded, and through many of their accustomed channels entirely interrupted, by the water craft of the enemy sinking burning and otherwise destroying the property which it cannot appropriate to its own use. The clearing and improving our rivers and Creeks, and connecting them by canals, would afford us a safe, cheap and expeditious mode of transportation, in defiance of the thousand ships of our enemy. Permit me to hazard the opinion, that less than one half the treasure expended by the United States for the protection of foreign commerce, if combined with state and individual wealth and judiciously expended, would have perfected an inland water communication from Maine to Georgia. Though the accomplishment of so extensive a work may be distant yet much may be done towards perfecting one of the great links of the chain, by connecting the waters flowing into the Chesapeake with those of the Delaware.

The preservation of morals and our free institutions, together with the true interest of humanity, would be much promoted and their perpetuation secured by the general diffusion of knowledge amongst all our citizens.

A solemn injunction contemplating these important objects, by the establishment of schools throughout the State, though contained in the instrument from which the departments constituting the government derive their powers, remains yet to be fulfilled on the broad plan and liberal principles which actuated those who enjoined the duty. The laws in force have done much good: a careful revision of them would probably do much more, by extending the benefits of this important branch of republican polity.

The sale of unseated lands for taxes has ceased to be a source of revenue in some counties, because the coercing payment under the present laws is unpopular and inefficint. I would suggest a forfeiture to the Commonwealth of all such lands, the owner for a short period of time to have the right of redemption, on payment of a double tax; the penalty in case of redemption, and the whole value of the land in case a forfeiture becomes absolute, to form a school fund. Such a provision would remove the odium attached to the present procedure, and the liberal minded sufferer would console himself by reflecting, that his want of attention has contributed to the promotion of a plan equally humane and patriotic.

Four years existence has proved the practical excellence of the arbitration principle, which is now incorporated with and in a great measure pervades our civil code. It is generally resorted to by the honest suitor whose object is to have an early and economical termination of a controversy. Amongst the many satisfactory results from the system, is the almost immediate lien which the vigilant plaintiff creates on the estate of the defendant, without doing him the slightest wrong. The defects of the law are, if any, in the detail. The local experience, collected by and concentrated in the Legislature, will dictate and secure appropriate remedies.

Permit me to suggest, that the law which directs that two verdicts rendered one way and judgment thereon shall be conclusive on the parties litigant as to real estate, is, by the latter requisite, rendered almost inoperative; the frequent setting aside the verdicts of juries perpetrates the evil intended to be remedied by that wholsome provision. Experience has shewn that many rules of court and rules of evidence become arbitrary and subversive of justice by their application to cases of a peculiar nature, and unfitted for the application of general rules. It may elucidate, and perhaps mitigate the harshness of the preceding observation, to state one case of hardship from among many which occur—Depositions, upon which principally a plaintiff may have recovered on a first trial will not be permitted to be read in evidence on a second trial; in every other respect the case is the same throughout and in all its bearings, and the controversy about the same property. Is there not in such decisions something repulsive to the dictates of common sense and would it not be promotive of justice to direct, that in all cases necessity, either absolute or moral, shall be sufficient ground for dispensing with rules of court & of evidence.

The able and elaborate report of the Attorney General on the subject of criminal jurisprudence, well merits an early attention. Its philanthropic principles will I doubt not animate the new system, which humanity anticipates as the result of your deliberations.

Agreeably to a late decision of our Supreme Court, it would seem that in a case of Larceny committed in an adjoining state, the offender if he flies hither and brings with him the property stolen, cannot be here punished. Under this decision, which is now considered settled law, some daring offenders have already escaped; and if such a practice be continued it will encourage theft in the adjoining states in proportion as the impunity afforded by our courts becomes known. This rule of action thus laid down by our supreme Court must become still more alarming and injurious if extended, as it is presumed it must be, to the receivers of stolen property. It would seem also, that the efficacy of the writ of habeas corpus is much weakened by the Act of the 3d April 1809.

defining contempts of Court. For the information of the Legislature on this subject, I shall shortly transmit extracts of a letter from the Attorney General, shewing the inefficiency, and pointing out also defects in that important law, the habeas corpus act.

The frequent applications made for pardons for convicts sentenced to imprisonment at hard labour, founded solely on the want of apartments wherein to employ them, and of necessary tools and materials, point out the necessity of an imperative injunction on county commissioners to provide the requisite means for the attainment of the ends contemplated by our humane penal code.

The case of an unfortunate fellow mortal now under sentence of death, and who has from the most conscientious motives been twice respited, impels me to state to you my fellow-citizens, that in Pennsylvania, famed for the justice and mildness of her penal code, where a contest for six dollars has the full scope of legal investigation extended even to the supreme judicial tribunal of the State; yet, when the life of a citizen is at stake, he shall be hurried through all misapprehensions of witnesses and jurors and errors of courts, to an untimely and disgraceful death. For him there is no court of revision, of errors or appeals, nor has he any remedy other than in the mercy of the executive, and that remedy is an absolute pardon; the justice of which must be often doubtful, and would sometimes be culpable. To your judgment and feelings it is submitted, whether essential alterations ought not to take place in this system.

Horse racing, a vice of the most baleful kind, both as to its immediate and consequent effects on morals, continues to be predominant over the laws making penal that cruel and unchristian sport. In despite of the magistracy and the efforts of other good citizens, the laws are violated with impunity, because of the extreme difficulty to prove facts essential to a conviction, which ingenuity is never at a loss to conceal. I beg leave to reiterate the opinion, that a forfeiture of the animal brought for the purpose of racing on any ground, is the most effectual mode to stay the mischief.

Much mischief to the morals and to the industry of the state is likely to result from the flood of paper thrown into circulation by unincorporated banks. That this is done in despite of an existing law, is too obvious to have escaped your notice. The objections which I felt it my imperious duty to submit to your predecessors against the passage of a general banking law, and to which I beg leave to refer you, apply with double force against the practices now pursuing by unauthorized associations throughout the state.

The hand of an independent, disinterested and enlightened Legislature will I trust, correct the evil.

Tavern licenses, regarded as sources of revenue, from the sameness of the sum paid for them throughout the state, with the exception of the city of Philadelphia and some contiguous places, operate very unequally, when we compare the emoluments arising from houses of entertainment in different districts of the State. The sum to be paid into the treasury ought to be in proportion to the benefit derived from the privilege granted. A discrimination, founded on some general principle, suppose on the rent paid or the value assessed on the premises occupied as a tavern; such a scale of prices would be more equitable, and would in all probability be productive of other advantages besides those connected with the treasury.

The provisions of a resolution of a late Legislature have resulted in the accumulation of materials believed to be amply sufficient for the formation of the explicit fee bill. It is due to the people and to the public officer, that fees of office for similar services should be uniform, and in no case should the sum to be paid depend on the discretion of the officer receiving or the indivdual paying. I would suggest also the establishing by law of the pay and other expenses to be allowed sheriffs for the transportation of criminals to the Philadelphia prison as a measure calculated to prevent embarrassment in the accountant department.

The number of new counties which have been erected out of old ones has so entirely deranged the districts heretofore establishment for the appointment of Justices of the peace, as to render difficult a compliance with the constitutional injunction, that a competent number of those officers shall be commissioned in convenient districts. Inconveniences is also felt in all of the Counties lately organized for judicial purposes, to which the law of the 4th of April, 1803, does not extend. A new law containing similar provisions to the law just referred to, has therefore become necessary.

The threatening attitude assumed by the enemy on Lake Erie and on the Delaware, induced the expenditure of a portion of the fifty thousand dollars placed by the Legislature at the discretion of the executive. It has been appropriated to the repairs of Arms, the purchase of ammunition and Camp equipage. An account of it and of the monies expended as additional compensation to those of our Militia who had faithfully served under any of the requisitions of the President of the United States, will so soon as the proper department shall have been furnished with necessary vouchers, be laid before you; and also an account of expenses incurred by the call of Major General Mead on the first brigade of his Division for the defence of the United States' flotilla then in the harbor of Erie.

The million of dollars authorized by a law of the last session to be subscribed to the loan opened by the United States Government, has not been subscribed; the time necessarily consumed in enacting the provisions deemed necessary by some of the banks before they would pay over the sums they proposed to loan the Commonwealth, so far delayed the completion of the loan required by the state, that the books for receiving subscriptions to the loan of the United States were closed before a copy of the supplementary law passed by the Legislature could reach Philadelphia. Full information of everything done by the agents I had appointed to negotiate and complete the loan, subsequent to my communication of the 25th March last, shall be laid before the Legislature.

Agreeably to a law of the last Legislature, a plan has been approved for an arsenal in the City of Philadelphia, and a contract for its execution formed, now nearly executed. The various other duties enjoined on the Executive by laws and resolutions, have I trust, been performed in a spirit correspondent with the motive that dictated the several injunctions.

I have thus, fellow-Citizens, explicitly communicated such information and recommended such measures as experience and reflection have suggested; and it will be gratifying to my feelings, and I trust not injurious to the interests of our constituents, if you, agreeing in opinion with me, shall sanction with your approbation the measures I have suggested. If we defer as to the policy or expediency of any particular measures I am sure it will be an honest difference; and mutual respect will teach us to give credit to each other for upright intentions, pure motives and conscientious convictions, emanating from patriotic principles. Your selection from, and residence in, the various districts of the state, have given you such opportunities of knowing the wants and wishes of the people, and assemble in you such a body of information, of public feeling and public opinion as never can be collected under any, other than a republican form of government, and truly impress you with the character of Representatives of the People, and secure for you that respect and confidence which necessarily attach to so important a station. I shall at all times cheerfully co-operate with you in the adoption of any measure calculated to promote the freedom, interest or happiness of our constituents.

Simon Snyder.

The case of Elizabeth Eaton who has been for some time confined in the Jail of the County of York, under sentence of death for murder in the 1st degree being under consideration, a letter was this day written by the Secry of the Commonwealth by direction of the Governor to Wm Barber Esqr in answer to his letter of the 28th of last month, informing him that the Governor will conceive it improper to give any directions concerning the prisioner until the Court shall again have decided on her case.

Monday June 6th 1814.

A Charter was this day signed by the Governor, and issued under the Great Seal of the State creating and erecting the present subscribers, and also all those who may hereafter subscribe to the number of Six thousand shares of stock of the Bank of Germantown, in the district of the County of Philadelphia: And also a similar Charter creating and erecting the present subscribers and also all those who may hereafter subscribe to the number of ten thousand shares of stock of the York Bank in the County of York, into bodies politic and corporate in law, agreeably to the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly passed the twenty first day of March last entitled "An Act regulating Banks" and for and during the period therein allowed; the Commissioners named in the said Act to receive subscriptions of stock of the said institutions having certified to the Governor that a competent number of persons had subscribed three thousand and thirty nine shares of the stock of the former, and Nine thousand five hundred and five shares of the latter Bank, sufficient to entitle each Company to receive an Instrument of incorporation; and that the sum of twenty per cent on all and every of the shares so subscribed has been paid by the Subscribers to the said Commissioners.

Also 1,000 cartouch boxes, bayonet belts and scabbards, for as many muskets to be received from the United States, in part of the quota of arms coming to Pennsylvania from that government, which muskets you are to receive and take charge of and of the remainder of the quota; which you are to endeavor to procure, and therefor to receipt if required; and to procure such number more of cartouch boxes as shall be sufficient to supply deficiencies—and also of knapsacks, canteens, camp kettles, &ca such number as shall, with those in the arsenal, be sufficient for 4,000 men.

You will, for the purpose of complying more promptly with these orders, either go to Philadeplia, and elsewhere if your presence shall be necessary, or specially direct on those points the several and proper brigade inspectors. And of what you shall do in the premises, you will from time to time make report into the secretary's office, and when complete you are finally to report to the proper officer. Your accounts duly authenticated and supported by proper vouchers, will be paid agreeably to law.

The Bond of John Kirkpatrick as Inspector of the militia of the first Brigade of the 13th division, composed of Westmoreland and Fayette Counties dated the 15th day of July last, with John Morrison and Robert Brown as sureties in four thousand dollars—was approved by the Governor.

In compliance with a requisition from the President of the United States of the fourth instant, the Governor this day issued the following General Orders.

General Orders.

Harrisburg, 22nd July, 1814.

To John M. Hyneman, Adjutant General.

In conformity with a requisition by the President of the United States, dated 4th July, 1814, and to me directed, you are commanded to have in readiness to march at a moments warning, the militia within the divisions as numbered in the act entitled "An Act for the regulation of the Militia of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," passed the 9th April, 1807, to wit: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9, heretofore drafted for the service of the United States; and immediately to proceed to have drafted agreeably to law, a number more as, added to existing drafts (except such as may have served a tour of duty) shall amount to 14,000 men: and to have them as soon as possible, mustered, armed and equipped within the Brigade, regimental or battalion bounds, as shall be most convenient and best adapted for the service, and placed under their proper officers; but are not to be considered as in actual service, until directed by subsequent orders to take the field.

Animated, as it is believed they will be, by the example of our volunteers and drafted militia who have sought and beaten the enemy without our territory: those sons of Pennsylvania, who have hitherto reposed in the lap of security, but whose distinguished characteristic is known to be love of country, it is confidently anticipated will, at this important crises, when a ferocious and powerful enemy dictates, at the terms of peace, unconditional submission, be prompted by a voluntary tender of service, to supersede the necessity of any draft.

It is with pride and with pleasure the Commander in Chief refers to those corps, who in General Orders of the 25th August and 5th September, 1812, by name are handed down to posterity on the splended roll of fame, as the first fruits of patriotism.

The Governor embraces this occasion to signify his acceptance of the tender of services of the following corps, made subsequent to General Orders of the 5th September 1812, by the following commanding officers:

Thomas Walker. Captain of the "Harrisburg Volunteers," of the 1st brigade 6th division.

Clement C. Biddle. Captain of the "State Fencibles," of the 1st brigade, 1st division.

Andrew Mitchell. Captain of the "Rifle Company, of the 1st brigade 7th division.

Henry Reed, Captain of the "Benevolent Blues," of the 2nd brigade, 1st division.

James Noble. Captain of the "Light Dragoons," of the 1st brigade, 7th division.

Andrew Mitchell, Captain of the "Rifle Company," of the 2nd brigade, 12th division.

Samuel Dunn Captain of the Rifle Company" of the 2nd brigade 7th division.

And to express also, the high gratification he feels, that now the occasion having occurred, they will, one and all, with the determination of Freemen, realize the patriotic professions in their several communications contained.

As evidence of unabated zeal and patriotism, he refers, with exultation to the result of a meeting by the Generals and other officers of the first division, held on the 20th June last, breathing sentiments honorable to. and that can emanate only from the bosoms of those who are determined not to live, but under fair Freedom's sway. Do you so likewise.

Simon Snyder
Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

A Proclamation was signed by the Governor, and this day issued under the Great Seal of the State in the following words to wit.

Pennsylvania ss
Simon Snyder { Place of the Great Seal } By Simon Snyder Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

A Proclamation

It having pleased the Sovereign Ruler of the Universe in the course of his just and wise providence to visit our Country with the Calamities of a desolating War. And believing that mercy is a distinguished attribute of the Deity—that he exhibits his strange work of Judgments by the infliction of chastisement upon his creatures, because of their sins and rebellion against his holy laws, for the benign purpose of bringing them back to him the author and giver of all good. It therefore becomes the duty of those under the manifestation of his displeasure, seriously to enquire wherefore he has a controversy with them—and to humble themselves before him, on account of their manifold transgression, repent and turn from their evil ways and implore him for pardoning mercy.

And Whereas it has been recommended by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States to observe the third Thursday of August next as a day of humiliation fasting and prayer—and it having been intimated as desirable that the Executive of this State should recommend to the people thereof the observance of that day for those solemn religious purposes. In accordance thereof with the intimation aforesaid I do hereby earnestly recommend to Christians of every denomination throughout this Commonwealth that laying aside as far as practicable all wordly avocations, they observe the third Thursday of August next as a day of humiliation fasting and prayer, devoting it to the religious exercises of sincere confession of their sins—humbly to ask for divine grace to enable them truly to repent of them—to implore pardon and forgiveness through the mediation & atonement of the Redeemer—that he would pour out plentifully the effusions of his holy spirit on all people—cause a general revival of true and vital piety That God would take our beloved Country into his holy keeping—defend and protect us from the ravages of foreign and savage foes and the evil Machinations of our internal enemies—that he would speedily restore to us the blessings of peace with the full and permanent enjoyment of all our just rights and privileges, both civil and religious—that he would hasten that blessed period when nation shall no longer rise up against nation. When the cruel art of War shall no longer be learned or practiced. And the horrid instruments of destruction be converted into the instruments of peaceful industry.

And that the good people of this Commonwealth accompany the supplications with the grateful sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving to the Father of Mercies for his unremitted goodness in mingling with His Judgments so many blessings both of a spiritual and temporal nature.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at Harrisburg this twenty eighth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fourteen and of the Commonwealth the thirty eighth.
